

Social Media Messaging Templates

This Children's Hospice week, we're counting on our incredible supporters to join us in shining a light on the essential work of children's hospices and the families they support. Use our pre-drafted social media copy below, or create your own, to raise awareness for the work of Together for Short Lives and children's hospices. Remember to include the hashtag #ChildrensHospiceWeek and tag us (LinkedIn & Facebook: @Together for Short Lives, Instagram: @togetherforshortlives, X: @Tog4ShortLives).

Example posts:

INSTAGRAM:

For families caring for a child with a serious illness, time together matters more than words can describe.

Children's hospices help families make precious moments possible - offering expert care, rest and support to help make moments of joy when they're needed most.

But right now, children's hospices are under pressure and need support.

This #ChildrensHospiceWeek, we're standing with Together for Short Lives and children's hospices, and the families who rely on their care.

LINKEDIN:

No family should feel alone when caring for a child with a serious illness.

Children's hospices provide lifeline care and support for families during the hardest moments - and help families create precious moments together.

This #ChildrensHospiceWeek, we're standing with Together for Short Lives and children's hospices to shine a light on these vital services, which need your support now more than ever.

Watch the video to learn more about the work of children's hospices and the vital work they deliver across the UK.

FACEBOOK:

Children's hospices give families the most important thing: time spent together.

They provide expert care and specialist support so families can rest, make moments and focus on what matters most.

But many hospices are struggling to meet demand for their services because funding isn't keeping pace with need.

*This Children's Hospice Week, let's help change that. Please support your local children's hospice and raise awareness for the incredible work they do.
#ChildrensHospiceWeek*

Social Media Messaging Templates

This Children's Hospice week, we're counting on our incredible supporters to join us in shining a light on the essential work of children's hospices and the families they support. Use our pre-drafted social media copy, or create your own, to raise awareness for the work of Together for Short Lives and children's hospices. Remember to tag us and include the hashtag #ChildrensHospiceWeek

LinkedIn:

No family should feel alone when caring for a child with serious illness.

Children's hospices provide expert care and vital support when families need it most, helping them create precious moments together.

But they're under real funding pressure: without more support, they can't provide all the care families rely on. You can help change that.

This #ChildrensHospiceWeek, we're standing with Together for Short Lives and children's hospices to shine a light on these vital services, which need your support now more than ever.

Join us on a journey to precious moments and discover your local children's hospice.

Facebook/Instagram:

For families caring for a child with serious illness, precious moments mean everything.

Children's hospices give families the most important thing: time spent together. They offer expert care and a place to spend time together when it's needed most.

But many hospices are struggling to meet demand because funding isn't keeping pace with need. Without more support, they can't provide all the care families rely on.

This #ChildrensHospiceWeek, join us on a journey to precious moments. Discover your local children's hospice and raise awareness for the incredible work they do.

@Together for Short Lives

@togetherforshortlives

@Together for Short Lives

@Tog4ShortLives

[Click here for
99,000 Steps
Challenge posts](#)